

Can images be exported out of VSC2?

Yes, VSC2EZ allows individual images to be exported one at a time.

Yes, VSC2 Standard and Enterprise allow images to be batch exported by using a field to name the files where the images will be exported (the field must be unique and exist for every record for the export to be successful).