

When do I need a video capture card in the PC?

Video capture cards are required when taking pictures with any source (camera or camcorder) other than a digital camera. In BadgeMaker, the images produced by digital cameras are imported into the PC by the TWAIN driver.

IVIS Plus provides direct communication between the digital camera and IVIS Plus software. PC's that will be used only to view images also do not require video capture cards.